“ *To My Beloved Uncle:
You worked hard to keep the family moving in a positive direction. Many of us learned about the joy of travel as your Navy days provided excitement for you. We learned about other cultures and listened to you as you shared your adventures. Thank you for just being you, an uncle who cared about his family and strived to pass on your desire for us to get our education and to climb ladders that our grandparents never knew existed. Thank you and your family will always love you. We now must say good-bye but just know there are family members with outstretched arms welcoming you. Peace be with you.
Love you,
Emma Horton*
